

Osborne Pet Supply

STANFIELD[®] HEAT PADS

for the pets you love

Heat Pads

Strong enough for pigs, perfect for your pet!

In 1973, Osborne's Stanfeld® Heat Pads were developed as the first heat pad made for application in swine production environments. Since then, Osborne has manufactured hundreds of thousands of our signature orange heat pads and they are in use all over the world. They continue to be the safest, most economical way to promote good health and growth for small animals.

Our original "pig blankets" are made of fiberglass reinforced plastic which is far superior to the flammable plastics that cheap heating pads use. Our pads also distribute heat more evenly than competitor's pads: the heating element is patterned to radiate warmth across the entire length of the pad, not just at the center. The heating element is completely sealed in the pad making them water tight. Their proven, rugged design holds up in harsh livestock environments, so you can rest assured they will deliver top quality performance for your favorite pets.

Put heat exactly where it is needed to improve your pets' health and reduce your costs! Completely eliminate bedding, along with its costs, sanitation problems, and labor. At maximum power, Osborne's Stanfeld Heat Pads provide uniform heat that is 30 - 35° F (16 - 20° C) above air temperature. This creates a resting surface which is just right for many growing animals. The rigid, nonporous surface makes Osborne heat pads highly hygienic and easy to clean.

Along with worldwide popularity, they have earned CSA certification. To ensure unrivaled performance and your complete satisfaction, all of our heat pads are manufactured under strict ISO 9001 quality standards and come with a complete one year warranty.

Kimberly W. | Zoofari Director | California, USA

"We use Stanfeld Heat Pads for many of our reptiles and small mammals. These heat pads are economical, low maintenance, and efficient. We will continue to use Stanfeld Heat Pads and recommend these products to others."

Heat Pad for Dogs, Reptiles & More!

Stanfeld Heat Pads provide the most safe, reliable, and economical heat for your kennel or your most important pet. They provide evenly distributed heat to block the cold, keeping your pet safely and gently warm through cold winter nights. Dogs, tortoises, snakes, and other animals thrive with a warm surface to lie on or against.

Raise Stronger & Healthier Animals

- Reduce room temperature without stressing growing animals.
- Promote healthful rest.
- Build disease resistance.
- Keep mothers cooler and more productive by putting heat where it is needed.

